

Creep

creep: the slow, imperceptible down slope movement of mineral, rock, and soil particles under gravity the softness of us

shifted quietly downhill, buried itself deeply where we can no longer reach it.